PYRFORD MARINA

*Idyllic marina moorings alongside the beautiful

Set in a beautiful location off the River Wey, which stretches over 20 miles from the Thames into the heart of Surrey. This inland waterway, uniquely, is owned by the National Trust thus ensuring it against unsympathetic development and preserving its historic locks and keepers cottages. There is evidence of human settlement at Pyrford since ancient times, and the 'busiest' stretch of the waterway passes through the centre of Guildford, the historic county town of Surrey.

The Marina has both pontoon and bankside moorings, trailboat hardstanding, a dry-dock, and a slipway. It is a tranquil and beautiful spot, which makes it hard to imagine that it is within such easy reach of major roads (just 2 miles from junction 10 of the M25). The River Wey was made navigable in the 17th Century, and was hugely important in the movement of heavy cargoes. Today it is the setting for brightly painted traditional narrowboats, and smaller inland cruisers, moving at an unhurried 4 knots or slower.

The River Thames can be joined less than 5 miles away, and there is also access to the 32 miles of the Basingstoke Canal. There are attractive canalside pubs to visit, and a footpath runs from Pyrford Bridge to the nearby Royal Horticultural Society Gardens at Wisley. Pyrford Golf Club is adjacent to the marina, for those who enjoy a round.
